CROOKED TRUSTY.

He Did Not See Carry Evans In Cincinnati In January.

SHE NEVER MET HIM TILL APRIL.

No Dead Body Was Taken From the House on George Street as He Claimed. The Defense of Scott Jackson as Completely Shattered as Though It Had Been Struck by a Cyclone.

NEWPORT, Ky., May 7.—Not a whit does the public interest in the Scott Jackson trial abate. The same faces of lawyers, for the most part, are seen within the bar. Outside the bar the public admitted on tickets present, for the greater part, new faces each half day. The attendance of women grows larger daily. There were over a hundred present Wednesday. During all the proceedings the most perfect quiet is preserved.

It is very rarely that anyone leaves the room. All seats are full when court opens and they remain filled till the hour of adjournment. Testimony in rebuttal begun Wednesday will likely consume today at least. The trial of Walling, set for next Wednesday, has been postponed, but to what time has not yet been fixed.

The most important testimony of the day was that of Carrie Evans. She is the woman in the story of George R. Trusty, alias Trusty, who is wanted, but can't be found. Trusty said he assumed name was Georgie Baker and her true name Evans. She says her assumed name is Carrie Evans and her real name Virginia Catherine Williams. Trusty said he had known her six years. Carrie Evans says she never saw Trusty till John Seward and he met her on April 8, and never saw him again until Tuesday night, when she met Trusty with John Seward. The court asked her if she talked to Seward and Trusty. She answered: "Only about what John Seward told me to swear to."

In this line Lena Stoker, Myrtle Hudson and Mrs. Julia Herzog, who are tenants occupying all of the house at 53 George street, which is the one the fugitive William R. Trusty finally designated as the one from which the dead girl was taken, all testified that no dead body was taken from that house on Jan. 31; also the only dead body taken from these tenants this year was that of Mrs. Herzog's baby. The testimony of these four women completed the demonstration that William R. Trusty's testimony was forgery and perjury.

Detective Michael Doyle of Jersey City said Scott Jackson's character after the Letts robbery of the Pennsylvania railroad was very bad. In cross-examination he said Jackson came from New York voluntarily to testify in Letts' trial in Jersey City. He was asked by the defense if Jackson was not dogged by detectives in New York before the Jersey City trial. He answered: "Yes, but we could not catch him; he hid in the Atlantic highlands." Other afternoon testimony went to prove George H. Jackson's good character by men here who have employed him from four months to four years.

John Seward, after this trial is over, now under bond, will be arrested. The three negroes who deposited in Ohio one way and swore Tuesday in Kentucky the other way were liberated. They will be arrested in Ohio for perjury.

THEY MADE MONEY.

This Being Contrary to Law They Were Taken Into Custody.

NEW YORK, May 7.—James Stillman and his wife, who claims to be an actress, and Rudolph Kropinsky are in custody in this city charged with counterfeiting. At a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Shields Stillman confessed that he was a counterfeiter and declared that his wife was innocent. The headquarters of the gang was in a house on Third street raided by the police. A complete outfit for the manufacture of counterfeit 50-cent pieces, including two moulds with counterfeits in them, was seized. Stillman and Kropinsky were held in $5,000 bail each and Mrs. Stillman's bond was placed at $2,500. In default of bail all the prisoners are in jail.

Dwyer Wants a New Trial.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Application was made by counsel for Michael F. Dwyer before Judge Pryor in the supreme court for a new trial of the libel suit of David Gideon against Dwyer. Judge Pryor reserved his decision and instructed counsel on both sides to file briefs. At the first trial of the action Gideon was awarded $15,000 damages.

WILL BE SEATED.

The Women Win In the Methodist General Conference.

FINAL SETTLEMENT IS TO COME.

As an Act of Courtesy to the Fair Sex the Four Women Delegates Present Will Be Allowed to Remain, but This Is Not to Triage in the Final Settlement of the Question.

CLEVELAND, May 7.—The four women delegates will retain their seats in the Methodist general conference. This was practically decided at the meeting of the committee on eligibility held last night. All but two of the 31 members of the committee were present at the meeting. A long discussion was indulged in behind locked doors, and at its conclusion the result was announced.

The first important meetings of the standing committees were held in the afternoon. The committees were those on episcopacy, itineracy, temperance, state of the church, revision, temporal economy and eligibility. The committee on episcopacy considered many important matters. South America requested the abolition of the foreign missionary bishops and the establishment of a bishop with full episcopal powers in that country. Europe also asked for a bishop.

The Presiding Elders' Association of the Central States requested that presiding elders be given concurrent jurisdiction with the bishops in appointing ministers. The Laymen's Association of Cincinnati requested that the bishops be assigned to certain stations, to remain eight years in each, instead of choosing their own territory, as now. Chairman Backley decided that all these matters should be referred to subcommittees, which was done, and adjournment was taken until Friday.

The committee on state of the church considered a communication from the East Maine conference asking that the Methodist church take up the subjects of sociology, capital and labor, trusts, monopolies, etc., and deal with them in an educational and moral way. Complaint was received about certain so-called evangelists who go about the country falsely representing themselves to be working for the Methodist church.

The petitions laid before the committee on boundaries showed graphically the wonderful vitality and growth of the Methodist church. Requests that present conferences be cut in half and two be established in each instance, owing to growth in work and membership, were contained in the petitions from South America, Japan, Lexington, Ky., conference (colored), Louisiana conference (colored) and Delaware.

The committee on eligibility considered the following proposition as a solution of the woman delegate problem: That the three women delegates to the present conference be seated without prejudice to any future action of this conference, and that the question be again submitted to vote during the four years intervening before the next general conference without prejudice to any woman's rights in any conference under the present constitution as any conference may construe it.

The members of the committee discussed this provision all the afternoon and adjourned till evening. There is much chagrin over the unintentional slighting of Rev. Dr. John C. Morris of Nashville, the representative of the Methodist church south, as it is feared it may have a tendency to arouse in some quarters the old feeling of antagonism between the two great American branches of the Methodist church.

Dr. Morris arrived at noon on Monday and was directed to the Hollenden hotel by a member of the reception committee at the depot, to whom he merely announced that he was a delegate to the conference. None of the conference officials came to him and he went to the armory alone in the evening. Even when he delivered his speech there no one present seemed to know that he was the official representative of the Methodist Church South.

On Tuesday this fact became known to some of the leaders in the conference and there was a hurrying and scurrying to find him. They discovered that he had quietly left the city after discharging his mission, which was to formally ask for the appointment of a commission to act with similar representatives of the Methodist Church South, in consideration of the possible federation of the two branches of the denomination. An urgent invitation will be sent him to come again to the conference before it adjourns. Last night at the armory Chaplain McCabe delivered his famous lecture on "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison."

PUTTING UP THE BARS.

The Next President Will Have Little Pie to Pass Around.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Almost 30,000 government employes were brought with one sweep under the protection of the civil service by the issuance of an order by President Cleveland making a general revision of civil service rules. It takes effect immediately.

Its practical extent is the classification of all government employes below the rank of those subject to nomination by the president and confirmation by the senate and above the grades of laborers and workmen, with a few exceptions.
